

Did'ja Know?!

When a person lies or won't admit the truth, a different part of the person's brain lights up, because the liar knows he or she is saying something untrue!

It must have not been easy for Peter to say he didn't know Jesus. He was afraid. What would you have done? Color below!

John 10

Jesus told his friends that when he was arrested, they would all run away.

"I'll never leave you!" cried Peter.

Jesus sighed. "Oh, Peter. I know you love me. But before the rooster crows tomorrow, you will pretend you don't know me three times."

That night, Jesus was arrested. Peter followed at a distance.

"Hey," said a servant girl, "aren't you one of Jesus' friends?"

"No," said Peter.

A man asked, "Don't you hang out with Jesus?"

"No," said Peter.

"Are you sure?" said another man. "I could swear I saw you with him."

Peter got angry. "I don't know him!" he shouted. Just then, the rooster crowed and Peter remembered what Jesus had said.

Peter was so, so sad that he had denied Jesus that he cried and cried.

To Deny/Denied

Refuse to admit the truth.
